

Dear students of 8a,

a new week begins and we are approaching our winter holidays. Nobody sent me any question, according to the exercises with IF. DID you get along??

If we had had the chance to meet , we could have talked about your sentences with conditionals.

And if they all had been correct , we would not have practiced them so much.

Some of you would have been more successful ☆ if they had invested more time for learning. ( ☆ NO COMMA when the IF-CLAUSE is in second position)

Today I want you to dive deeper into some important stories of interesting and famous people of America: Barrack Obama, the 44th president of the USA, or Ruby Bridges, a six-year-old black little child. But you also hear about the Ku Klux Klan, a criminal organisation of Whites who illegally persecuted (verfolgten) blacks, lynched / killed them in cruel ways.

So, read the Background File at pages 44 and 45.

Then do nr 12 in your workbook, page 22.

In the text, you will find lots of new and important vocabulary. All those words you can look up in your book's dictionary.

I hope you could learn from chosen people's hard lives.

Tomorrow, you will hear about one more prominent woman who made America change.

Do not forget to work out all new words of unit 2!!

Good luck.

Yours, Mrs Leschniewski
